

The First Midweek Waterfront Lunch of 2017

The first lunch of the new year is on 25th January at ` The West Mersea Yacht Club. We have a series of lunches usually held on the last Wednesday of each month until March, sometimes with less emphasis on the proximity or nature of the waterfront, but always close to water with atmosphere and conviviality in mind. The essence is informality - "We're going for lunch at ??? - hope we'll see you there". We like to give the publican an idea of numbers but we usually get around 20, although this seems to be growing. Flyers go out early each month. Any new waterside pubs you can recommend - somewhere most of us can get to easily?

club we've enjoyed in the past - No problem with the tides for the strood on this day. The club is located on Mersea

Island in the village of West Mersea in the River

Blackwater in Essex. We hope to see plenty of friends

there.
